The school should be for the healthy children, he asserted as a tenet of his belief, and should be maintained on principles to make and keep children healthy. He also set forth the necessity of inspection of the teeth of children on an adequate scale.

Pure air he regarded as quite as, if not more than, essential as pure food to the health of children and their parents, too. He denounced the new school of sanitation that advocates the idea that foul air is not injurious. He told his audience that this was a serious cult, engaging the approval of reverend scientists, who were old enough to know better. He ridiculed their propaganda, and denied that there was any rational foundation for the creed they profess.

PARIS, December 9, 2 p.m.—The following statement was issued from war office this afternoon:

"During the day of December 8 there was artillery firing from the acoust to the Lys.

"In the region of Arras and further to the south there was nothing to report. All the positions won by us during the past two days have been organized and consolidated.

"In the region of the Alsne artillery exchanges resulted advantageously for us. In the Argonne the activity of our artillery and fighting by our infantry resulted in appreciable gains for us. Several German trenches were occupied, and we made progress along the entire front with the exception of one single point; here the enemy blew up one of our trenches with a mine.

'On the heights of the Meuse our artillery showed itself distinctly the master of the artillery of the enemy. In this region as well as in the Argonne we have made progress along the entire front, and occupied several of the German trenches. The same thing happened

"In the Vosges we repulsed several attacks to the northwest of Sinones. In the remainder of the segment of the Vosges the enemy made no endeavor during the day of December 8 to deliver any serious attack on the positions occupied by us last week.

"Russia—The stubborn attacks of the Germans against the front from How to Lowicz and from Strykow to Lodz, and also along a line running north and south sixteen kilometers (ten miles) to the west of Piotrkow, were repulsed. Nevertheless, because of the exposed position of Lods at the head of a wedge, the Russians have found it advisable to evacuate this city.

"In Galicia, the Austrians, who appear to have received German reinforcements, have resumed the offensive in the region of Neu Sandec, to the southeast of Cracow, against the Russian left wing. "Servia-The Servian armies are making progress in the upper alleys of the western Morava and on the left bank of the River Liid. They have taken possession of the heights of Melien, capturing numerous prisoners and also taking cannon from the enemy. In the region of Kosmaj the Servians are in contact with the Aus-

"Engagements which have developed in the region of Przasnysz and Cicohanow (east of the East Prussian border and Miawa) have not yet terminated. "In the fighting which took place in the region of Piotrkow we were only partially successful. "The battle which commenced December 5, southeast of Cracow, in the region of Wielizka, on the River Deriuly, has developed in our favor. After having courageously forced the passage of the Dounacts river, in the vicinity of Nowy Sandec, our reinforcements pursued the offensive and inflicted a serious defeat on the German troops, which had formed in the valley of Lososzyna. The German right wing, which was pursued, was turned. The former Speaker disagreed with the first time since June 22 last. He was in ill health for many months, but today looked to be in first-rate condi-tion. He was given a cordial welcome Secretary Bryan that love would stop the European war. He said he did not see how any of the nations involved could afford to quit, and it would be

The nomination of Frederick L. It is presumed that the same subcommittee of that the same subcommittee placed in charge of the nomination just before will again be assigned to the task of reporting upon the nomination. In the event of the confirmation of Commissioner Siddons within a short time it is doubtful if he will be able immediately to take the oath as associate justice, despite the serious need for his presence upon the local bench, where business has been congested for a long time. Commissioner Newman went south a short time ago on an inspection trip of prisons, but his health is not good and he is not expected back for some weeks. Mr. Siddons will not leave the District building until his colleague has returned and is physically able to resume his duties.

To Nominate Mr. Brownlow.

No action as to a successor to Mr siddons will be taken by the White House until the nomination of Mr. Siddons has been acted upon by the Senate. With confirmation of the nomination the President will send to the Senate the nomination of Louis Brownlow, Washington newspaper writer, to fill the vacancy. It was stated today by those who ought to know the President's mind that there is no change in his purpose to nominate Mr. Brownlow. No new candidates have been placed before him recently.

District men with aspirations to the commissionership appear to have taken it for granted that a fight would be futile, and have not permitted their names to be used. Whether they would have chances should their names be pressed cannot be learned at the White House beyond reiteration of the information that Mr. Brownlow will be nominated.
